today interviews proliferate everywhere in newspapers on television and in anthologies as a method they are a major tool of medicine the law the social sciences oral history projects and journalism and in the book trade interviews with authors are a major promotional device we live in an interview society how did this happen what is it about the interview form that we find so appealing and horrifying are we all just gossips or is there something more to it what are the implications of our reliance on this bizarre dynamic for publicity subjectivity and democracy literature and the rise of the interview addresses these questions from the perspective of literary culture the book traces the ways in which the interview form has been conceived and deployed by writers and interviewing has been understood as a literary critical practice it excavates what we might call a poetics of the interview form and practice in so doing it covers 150 years and four continents it includes a diverse rostrum of well known writers such as henry james t s eliot ezra pound djuna barnes william burroughs philip roth j m coetzee and toni morrison while reintroducing some individuals that history has forgotten such as betty ross queen of interviewers and julian hawthorne nathaniel s profligate son together these stories expose the interview s position in the literary imagination and consider what this might tell us about conceptions of literature authorship and reading communities in modernity

this book bridges the gap between film theory and filmmakers thoughts and poetics and proposes a new way to address and elaborate film theory it brings together primary sources by filmmakers themselves drawing on their films interviews books texts and manifestos divided into three parts the book covers the main aspects of this approach part one discusses the concepts of author and filmmaker part two evaluates the creative processes of a broad range of filmmakers including víctor gaviria colombia kleber mendonça filho brazil jean luc godard and agnès varda france abbas kiarostami iran pa ranjith india andy warhol usa maya deren ukraine usa and nuri bilge ceylan turkey the final part examines filmmakers various techniques particularly the use of multi images after dialectical images and the use of sound as a sensorial and narrative tool this curated selection of writings with contributors from a range of countries including the usa uk india china portugal brazil belgium and new zealand reflects the global perspective of this new approach the volume also discusses the ways in which filmmakers influence each other the spectator as seen by filmmakers and ways to critically address a filmography that takes into account filmmakers other than the director it is widely understood that writing can discuss writing but we rarely consider that film can be used as a means of analyzing conventions of the commercial film industry or of theorizing about cinema in general over the past few decades however independent cinema has produced a body of fascinating films that provide intensive critiques of nearly every element of the cinematic apparatus the experience of these films simultaneously depends on and redefines our relationship to the movies critical cinema provides a collection of in depth interviews with some of the most accomplished critical filmmakers these interviews demonstrate the sophistication of their thinking about film and a wide range of other concerns and serve as an accessible introduction to this important area of independent cinema each interview is preceded by a general introduction to the filmmaker s work detailed filmographies and bibliographies are included critical cinema will be a valuable resource for all those involved in the formal study of film and will be essential reading for film lovers interested in keeping abreast of recent developments in north american cinema interviewees hollis frampton larry gottheim robert huot taka iimura carolee schneeman tom chomont j j murphy beth b and scott b john waters vivienne dick bruce conner robert nelson babette mangolte george kuchar diana barrie manuel delanda morgan fisher
